

The stamp machines, mail sacks and courteous postal employees will vacate the post office on Main Street in Pleasanton soon for bigger quarters on Santa Rita Road and Black Avenue. Vallecitos Skills Center hopes to get a federal grant to lease the building for the valley's first vocational skills center for the general population. Father V.M. Cowan, who has led a similar program in Union City, will head the local effort.

Post office may become skill center

PLEASANTON — The first serious attempt at manpower training since the old War on Poverty left the valley six years ago is in the offing.

The Vallecitos Skills Center would like to move into the post office building on Main Street which will be vacated soon when the new post office on Santa Rita Road and Black Avenue is ready.

Details are still vague, but according to City Planning Director Robert Harris the training would not be for industrial jobs, but rather clerical work and the like which would be compatible with the neighborhood.

The skills center's request for a conditional use permit for the training center has been scheduled for a public hearing August 11 at the city council chambers, 30 W. Angela St.

The applicant is the Rev. V.M. Cowan, a Catholic priest now working for Opportunities Industrialization Center West in Union City. Father Cowan lived in Chile for 15 years and built 10 schools in that time.

Federal anti-poverty grants are expected to finance the program. If all signals are go, it would be the first such training center in the valley.

The old Valley Community Economic Opportunities Organization, predecessor to Associated Community Action Program, had a manpower trainer in its office in Livermore in the late 1960's, but there was no federally-sponsored manpower training center then.

It is not known how many could be enrolled in the facility proposed by the Vallecitos Skills Center, but Harris doubted that the center would generate enough traffic to require a parking variance for the post office site. The applicant would have to tailor the program's use to the building requirements in order to successfully qualify for the conditional use permit, said Harris.

Council clears stop signs on Muirwood Dr.

PLEASANTON — Muirwood Drive residents successfully climaxed a long drive to obtain stop signs on their street last night.

The city council voted 3-1 to install the signs at Springdale Drive, Hillview Court and Highland Oaks Drive at their intersections with Muirwood Drive.

Joyce LeClaire, Ken Mercer and Frank Brandes voted for the signs, and William Herlihy against them. Mayor Robert Philcox was absent.

The resolution, introduced by Mercer, also included yellow traffic buttons down the center of the street from Las Positas Boulevard to Foothill Road.

Herlihy voted against the motion because he felt that more police enforcement, not traffic devices, are needed to solve the problem. He thought that granting the stop signs would encourage residents of other neighborhoods to request and expect the same.

Brandes also wants to see more police enforcement, but thought that 521 petitioners should be supported in their request for the traffic controls. He observed that only five residents refused to sign the neighborhood petition requesting the controls.

Brandes opened a can of worms when he queried Traffic Engineer Ken Lamb about enforcement of speed limits by radar.

State traffic laws require a traffic survey of a street within the past five years for enforcement of a posted speed limit by radar, said Lamb.

If the traffic survey shows that the "reasonable and prudent" speed driven by 85 per cent of the motorists is, for example, 35 miles per hour and not the posted 25 mph, then that's the speed which traffic court judges will allow, said Lamb.

"Where can we enforce the posted limits then," asked Brandes.

"Hoppyard Road is the only place," said Lamb, who added he was not too happy for the public to learn that.

But Muirwood Drive resident David Irish claimed that a Pleasanton police official told him the police department can and does enforce at 5 mph over the posted speed limit.

Irish said that "reasonable and prudent" may be acceptable as a speed limit on the freeway, but where pedestrians are present on residential streets, "reasonable and prudent" as a posted limit does not seem to be reasonable and prudent.

A volunteer's letter backs two firemen

PLEASANTON — The demolition of Fireman George Withers and the reported pay cut for Lt. Ted Klenk have drawn criticism from volunteer fireman Dick Braden in a letter to the city manager.

Withers, the ranking Pleasanton fire officer on the scene when Fallon House accidentally was burned by the Twin Valley Fire Training Academy, was demoted from a captain to lieutenant, partly as a result of the accidental burn. The demotion also came because of a poor performance evaluation over the past 14 months, although Withers claims that he wasn't notified of the evaluation until after he got the bad news.

Klenk was on the scene during part of the Fallon House fire and is the city's fire marshal. He refused to confirm anything about a pay cut. Withers has decided to appeal his demotion. A hearing is expected in late August or September. Klenk has not appealed the reported disciplinary action.

Braden told The Times that his letter to Edgar called the burn an honest mistake. "To single out these men for an honest mistake is not warranted," said Braden.

"You would think the Fallon House was just an old house scheduled for demolition," Braden said about the small, run-down house which burned. "It didn't resemble a historical monument. There should have been a big sign out there: 'Historical monument, do not destroy'."

Volunteer fireman Braden is better known to city officials and the public as a representative of an engineering firm because of his many appearances before the planning commission and city council on planning and zoning matters.

Kidnap suspect in Canada?

SAN LEANDRO (AP) — One of the men sought in the Chowchilla mass kidnaping attempted to cross the Canadian border four days after the 26 school children and their bus driver were abducted, the Alameda County Sheriff reported Monday.

Sheriff Tom Houchins said the Royal Canadian Mounted Police telephoned him Monday to say that James Schoenfeld, 24, tried to cross the border at Washington state July 19. At the time Schoenfeld was not a subject of the investigation.

"He did not get into Canada," Houchins told reporters at a briefing. "He said he was going to visit the Olympics."

Schoenfeld and Frederick N. Woods, 24, another son of a wealthy San Francisco Peninsula family, are objects of a nationwide search. Schoenfeld's brother Richard, 22, turned himself in last Friday.

Houchins said he didn't know whether Schoenfeld had been turned back by Canadian police or had decided on his own not to cross the border.

He said the Mounties were "reasonably certain" the young man was Schoenfeld because he showed some form of identification.

The Canadians reported Schoenfeld was alone, Houchins said.

Murray's $8 million budget up 7 per cent

DUBLIN — It will cost $8 million to run the Murray Elementary School District this year.

The newly approved publication budget for the Pleasanton and Dublin school district lists a healthy net beginning balance of some $528,274 — compared to last year's $138,175.

Local residents are sharing the burden almost equally with the state, county and federal governments.

The school district is spending most of their income — some $6.3 million — on salaries. Also budgeted is half a million for books and supplies and equipment replacement.

In a separate account, the district will be paying off $600,000 in building bonds this year (fiscal 1976-77.) The state school building fund stands at $832,000 and the cafeteria fund budget totals $19,442.

Besides classroom teaching, it is costing the district some $2.4 million for support personnel such as nurses, secretaries, counselors, psychologists and other specialists, and administration. District-level administration is a $285,000 operation.

Community services (supported by a special tax), food services and facility acquisition and construction account for $146,777 of the budget, down from $158,338 last year — the only area of the budget to show a decrease instead of an increase, thanks to a $40,000 decline in the acquisition and construction segment of the balance sheet.

Classroom programs cost $4.3 million for the general elementary program, plus almost $400,000 for special education.

District taxes plus tax relief subventions account for $3.8 million of the district's income; state, federal and county money will total $3.6 million; and other local income adds up to $81,000.

The budget has climbed 7 per cent since last year and 22 per cent since 1974-75.

Sunol Golf Course troubles fade away

SUNOL — After more than a year of scandal shrouding the activities at Sunol Golf Course, the elegant country club-type spot is enjoying a slow comeback.

People are beginning to discover that the course is neither private nor closed, but very much open for Sunday champagne brunches or a round of golf on one of their two 18-hole championship courses or dining and dancing on Friday and Saturday nights.

According to the Civil Grand Jury's latest reports, just issued, the golf course's problems have been settled satisfactorily and further proceedings should be dropped.

The Grand Jury said: "Although it is clearly evident that several city officials were lax in this complicated situation, the present Civil Grand Jury recommends that the matter be dropped. ... There has been a satisfactory settlement of the lease arrangements — all back rentals have been paid, and there are no current arrears — and ... the Commission has adopted a much more stringent rules to prevent future lease difficulties."

The 1974-75 scandal involved the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission's leasing of its Sunol golf course. The first Investigative Grand Jury in 1974-75 had called for the resignations of the commission's manager, John D. Crowley, his assistant, John M. Christensen, and commission member H. Weldon Flynn.

And it criticized "almost unbelievably ridiculous delays and misrepresentations" in the collection of more than $300,000 in rental arrears on the golf course, and transfer of its lease to a former Eastern underworld figure, Tony Romano.

Frank Ivaldi is currently general partner in control of the course.

When the property came under his control, one action he took was to phase out the large variety of discount cards the former management had sold people to drum up business and give the course more of a country-club flavor.

One of the cards, costing $100, gave the bearer discounts on their greens fees and golf cart rentals, and two-for-one dinners.

Tools worth $4,000 taken from storage yard

LIVERMORE — Burglars cut the lock to a garage at the Public Storage Inc. company on Portola early Sunday and stole nearly $4,000 in tools. Other storage garages were tampered with but apparently not burglarized, police reported.

Charles E. Witherell told police he discovered the tools missing when he returned to the garage early Sunday. Missing items include two Sears brand tool chests, one on wheels, containing a variety of machinist's tools.

Witherell told police that many of the tools were marked with his initials. Personnel at the garage say they saw no unusual activity, and no clues were reported discovered at the scene.

Police have no suspects at this time.

Man arrested after refusing to move car from driveway

LIVERMORE — A 20-year-old Livermore man who refused to move his car from the driveway of a fire station was arrested on suspicion of resisting police orders, it was reported yesterday.

Donald Baxter of 891 Jefferson Ave. was released from jail after being booked on the single charge, police said.

According to reports, police responded to complaints of a noisy party on Bluebell Drive late Saturday night. Officers found the party only moderately noisy, they reported, but spotted a car blocking the driveway to a fire station there.

Officer Richard Sibley approached the car and was about to write a ticket when a man and woman arrived and said it was their car. Sibley reportedly told the man to move the car, after which he would receive a citation.

The woman allegedly began yelling that police couldn't cite him. Officers continued to request the man move his car, to which he finally obliged. Police reported that Baxter got in the car, drove a short distance forward, backed up an equal distance, and hopped out, saying "I'm not moving the car."

Baxter was arrested and booked. Officers report they shoved the woman in an attempt to clear the area and she fell to the ground.

Baxter was released after receiving a citation. His car was towed away and put in storage.

Vandal strikes water company, damages equipment

LIVERMORE — Vandals caused an estimated $350 damage after turning on water pumps at the California Water Company at East and Dolores streets Saturday afternoon.

Police said vandals apparently entered a rear door of the building and began throwing switches that operate pumps and other equipment.

A company spokesman said two relays, several switches and wiring were damaged in the attack. A youthful suspect was observed at the scene, and police are seeking him for questioning.

Bench cushions taken in front of Spring Street home

PLEASANTON — Police reported that burglars took two cushions from a bench in front of Paul Loretz' Spring Street home sometime Monday morning.

"It's been there for years," Loretz said of the bench that residents frequently use for resting during their travels around town.

The cushions are 3-inches thick and 3-feet long, covered with drapery material of red and yellows roses on a white background. Loretz requests return of the cushions to either his home or police headquarters.

Sunol gets rid of bogeyman

"We have no idea how many of those were sold, or what the profit was," food and beverage manager Ted Whang said yesterday. But the management discontinued them after honoring them for about six months.

"It was traumatic," Whang admitted.

"Now the cards are called historical. Memorabilia of the past."

Whang has been helping to run the facility for the past year and has been proud of its comeback in spite of the notoriety that surrounded its past business dealings.

The two courses are "jammed" on weekends and "the tournament business is outrageous," he reports.

Bookings for banquets and weddings are also going strong. The clubhouse has been totally booked for the Christmas season since April.

The dinner trade is a little slow in summer, but dancing and entertainment help draw people on Friday and Saturday nights, 9 to 1. Just opened this spring is "Pavilion Room" luncheon dining, which attracts a good weekday crowd.

In addition, their $4.75

Sunday brunches — including champagne — are always successful; some 500 people were served there on Mother's Day.

Golfers are being offered a Sunday afternoon special: Tee off after 1 p.m. and for $12.50 you can play 18 holes, use a cart and enjoy a steak dinner afterwards.

"We have some handicaps," Whang said. "For one thing, people think we're private, but we're not — unlike Castlewood Country Club."

"But, things are happening."

Even break for animals campaign

Officials of the Contra Costa County Humane Society are hoping to get a revised ordinance passed quickly by the Board of Supervisors that would allow livestock and other animals to be auctioned via sealed bid.

Now such impounded animals are executed after 5 working days if unclaimed by the owners.

Supervisors state this one change could take place rapidly but other recommendations involving animal control would take more time.

One change that has already taken place is the doubling of dog license fees.

Since January fees have ranged from $3 to $6 per day unless the animal is neutered. In that case the prices are from $2 to $4.

Police warn roofing deal

LIVERMORE — Valley residents are warned to be wary of any persons trying to sell a special coating for home roofs, Livermore police detective Mel Karlne advises.

For the city council, nomination papers must contain at least 20, but not more than 30 signatures of voters living within the proposed boundaries of the city. There also is no filing fee for those races.

The filing dates and incumbents in each district are as follows:

BART: filing Aug. 5-30, either at the district office 800 Madison St., Oakland, or the county Elections Office, 524 Main St., Oakland.

— In Ward 5 including San Ramon, part of Danville and portions of Alameda County, Robert Allen of Livermore is the incumbent.

Upon adoption of the ordinance at today's meeting the supervisors' salaries will be $16,212 annually.

Idyllic valley people's choice?

County Planning Commissioners will hold their first public hearing on the Valley area's proposed general plan amendment, emphasizing the semi-agrarian lifestyle.

The hearing is fourth on the agenda for the 7:30 meeting in the county administration building, Martinez.

The plan's theme is how would San Ramon Valley residents like to see the area 15 years from now from a development standpoint.

LIVERMORE — Junction Intermediate School has scheduled an open house for Thursday morning, 8:30 to 12:30.

Visitors are invited to see dramatic presentations, art, crafts, wood shop displays, demonstrations in tumbling, square dancing, wrestling matches, orchestra, band, guitar and chorus performances and film festivals.

As if that weren't enough to do on the last day of summer school, there will also be demonstration classes in typing, language arts, math, basketball, girls' physical education and instrumental music.

Home economics students will use the Home Ec room as a hospitality center as they demonstrate recently learned cooking techniques.

Guide dog day August 5

The 20 annual 4-H Guide Field Day will be held on Aug. 5 at Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., San Rafael.

More than 150 4-H Guide Dog puppy raisers and their families from throughout California and parts of Oregon, Nevada and Washington are expected to participate in the day's activities. Registration and opening ceremonies are scheduled for 10 a.m.

Participating 4-H members will work their dogs through a testing course consisting of ten simulated situations which a blind person and his or her Guide might face on a typical day.

Judges at each station will give the 4-H'er dog teams two scores. One for the dog's physical condition, behavior and reaction and one for the 4-H'er's handling technique. Each dog's physical condition also will be considered in the final scoring. Dr. Richard Hauser, Guide Dog staff veterinarian, will determine this.

Red, blue and green ribbons will be awarded to each 4-H member and his or her dog to be determined by total scores. A trophy will be awarded to the participant with the highest combined score in showmanship and obedience.

State 4-H Specialist John Emo will attend the day-long event, as will various county farm advisors and project leaders. Judges will be members of the training staff of Guide Dogs and volunteer puppy testers will serve as hostesses for the event.

Camp talks at Del Valle

LIVERMORE — Del Valle Regional Park will be the setting of Saturday night free programs for the rest of the summer.

Naturalists plan to meet with anyone interested in the woodsy world around them, explaining some of the fascinating sidelights of life in the wild. The format will be "campfire talks" in the Del Valle Park amphitheatre at the campground. The park's $1.50 admission will be waived for the evening gatherings, which last about an hour. Here's the schedule through August:

• August 7: "Know Your Regional Parks." Information on facilities for fun and environmental education in the 27 East Bay Regional Parks that are in operation besides Del Valle.

• August 14: "Designs for Survival." How wild animals in the East Bay parks build homes, find their particular foods and protect themselves.

• Another Star Party. Members of the Lawrence Livermore Lab astronomy club will share high-powered telescopes.

Besides the Saturday programs, there will be a regular Friday night slide show on what to see and do at Del Valle.

Also, at 4 p.m. every Saturday, naturalists will give demonstrations in the boat dock area on catching fish, cleaning and cooking them.

At 2:30 p.m. Saturdays, visitors may join naturalists on the 30-seater tour boat to participate in testing water for clarity, temperatures at various depths and plankton concentration. Charge for the tour boat, an EBRPD concession, is 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children.

Information on programs at Del Valle and other EBRPD centers is available from the park district's staff at Sunol Regional Wilderness, 862-2244.

Today's hand is typical of the hands shown in the auction bridge columns and books of 50 or 60 years ago. South bid one notrump and everyone would pass since in auction you got credit for all over tricks below the line. West would open the three of spades and the defense would gather in four spade tricks. East would signal with the 10 of diamonds on the fourth spade and West would lead a diamond. South would take his ace of diamonds and cash four club tricks. West would discard three diamonds. Now South would cash his ace and queen of hearts and finesse for West's jack in order to score nine tricks and win the rubber.

The author would explain that the finesse was a sure thing. If West had held a five-card diamond suit he would have opened it. In auction you led your longest suit against notrump. Woe betide any iconoclast who violated that rule. Hence, when West showed out on the second club lead he was marked with 4-4-1 distribution.

A contract declarer would probably make the same play, but it would not be a sure thing. Contract players don't always lead their longest suit.

Ask the Jacobys

We continue to get questions about whether honors only count if held by declarer. The answer is that if a defender holds honors his side gets credit. If dummy or declarer holds honors his side gets credit.

Balaban cops Racquet title

Doug Balaban rallied from behind to take a 5-7, 6-3, 6-0 win over Steve Williford and with it the Pleasanton Racquet Club's men's singles championship Sunday at Amador Valley High School in Pleasanton.

Balaban had defeated Steve Torrano in the semi-finals while Williford toppled Jerry Stunkel in his semi-final match. Balaban was second seeded going into the tourney. Top-seed Ron Reynoldson was eliminated from tournament play in early-round competition.

In women's singles finals, Suzanne Russ disposed of Lori Larson 6-2, 6-0, to take the title.

Russ had beaten Judy Solloway and Jane Carey to reach the finals, while Larson, who was unseeded, waltzed her way to the finals by upsetting Marilyn McRitchie and Dottie Reynoldson.

Cubs fall to Oaks, 8-6

SAN FRANCISCO — With spectators at Graham Field just a wink away from falling into slumber, the Tri-Valley Cubs decided to liven up the party a little.

The Cubs, trailing 8-1 in the last inning of a game reminiscent of your last church softball affair, rallied for five runs before finally falling, 8-6, to Oakland's Zimmerman Oaks at Big Rec Ball Field in Golden Gate Park Sunday afternoon.

Prior to the Cubs' offensive outburst in that final stanza, the losers committed six errors, four in one inning, as Cub hurler Bob Moore yielded eight runs, five of them totally unearned.

The Cubs lost their third consecutive California Baseball Association outing while the Oaks, who are the only team to have beaten the league-leading Forresters, stayed in title contention with the win.

"We don't have any guys here today," said Stan Wolfe, who acted as manager for the game with Cub coach John McCuag missing. Once again, only 11 players showed up, as the Cubs continue to battle their own ineptness. But those who do show up for the games make the most of it as evidenced by the last out of the game.

With the score 8-3, the bases loaded and two outs, Cub shortstop Jim Florence stroked a booming ball over the centerfielder's head.

With the now-revived Graham Field gathering cheering him on, Florence raced around the bags, the three men ahead of him scoring easily. But the relay throw from centerfielder Mike Sousa to shortstop Mitch Malosovich to catcher Jim Sullivan nailed down Florence with plenty to spare.

While the Cub bench groaned agonizingly over the crucial play, Florence just dusted himself off and flashed a big grin.

Tri-Valley scored the first two runs of that inning on Dean Busch's single and Moore's triple, a ball that sailed over the left fielder's head with plenty to spare. Both of Moore's and Florence's hits would have been easy homers in a park with fences.

Moore scored on Dave Manousos' single. Walks to Scott Ellis and Carl Speck loaded the bases off Florence's shot.

Richards went the distance to pick up the win for the Oaks. The curvy left-hander allowed 11 hits and seven walks, but reaped the benefits of the Cubs' fielding flaws.

Al Richmond sliced a lead-off triple and scored on a fielder's choice by Bill Miley in the first inning to give the Oaks first blood and a 1-0 lead. Miley's was actually a blooper that fell into centerfield, but Vic Hernandez, who had walked, was forced at second after hitting at first base on the hit.

The third-inning was the stanza that seemed to linger forever for the Cubs. With one out and two strikes on the Oaks' Sullivan, Moore released an awry curve ball that glanced Sullivan on the shoulder, and Mike Sousa sent him to third on a single. Sullivan scored on a wild pitch, while Sousa went to third when Cub catcher Paul Miller threw the ball into centerfield trying to pick off Sousa at second.

Al Carmona sent an easy grounder to third. Busch looked the runner back to third, then proceeded to fire the ball over the dug-out, another run scoring. One out later, Malosovich singled in Carmona.

The Oaks scored two runs in each of the fifth and sixth innings. Two errors in the fifth combined with three singles netted the first two runs, while Malosovich's single, Hernandez' double, and Billy Foxworthy's single scored the final two runs.

The Cubs scored a single run in the third when Moore advanced on a two-base throwing error, went to third on Ellis' single, and scored on Dave Manousos' sacrifice fly to center.

Hollmer eyes 3rd USC year

Kurt Hollmer can run. And he does it best with a football tucked under his arm.

A 1974 graduate of San Ramon Valley High School, Hollmer will begin his third year at the University of Southern California (USC) and his third semester on a football scholarship, of which the last two seasons he has spent almost entirely on suicide teams.

Coming off a profitable spring which he said, "I was second string behind All-American Ricky Bell at tailback," Hollmer, spending his day basking in the sun before the grueling grind of practice next month, has found himself in a situation like so many other athletes — second best.

"Well, I'll tell ya," explained Hollmer. "After spring practice I was second string. Two or three times a week Bell wasn't there. I was running with the first team."

Bell, pending injuries, should duplicate that mark and be up for the Heisman Trophy award. Hollmer meanwhile, depending on how well he performs in summer sessions (begins Aug. 20) will probably be Bell's number one replacement via breathers, or if the speedy running back and the Trojans are down or in front by large margins.

"Bell," said Hollmer, "has a heart. He's not lazy. He gives 100 per cent. Every muscle in his body is just massive."

With the addition of head coach John Robinson from the Oakland Raiders, Hollmer said the new field general anticipates Bell to get 900 yards rushing and 500 passing.

"We worked on passing and running in spring," observed Hollmer. "He'll

Ramil sparks Diablos

Mike Ramil rammed in two first half goals Sunday to carry Los Diablos to a 4-2 victory over Menlo Park in under-21 Cal Am tournament soccer play at Emma C. Smith school.

The Livermore team leads the league with 6-1 mark. They battle San Francisco, who trails them by one game, in the league finale next Saturday at 1:00.

Ramil's first goal came from 10 yards out on an assist from Scott Talbot just two minutes after the game started. At 10 minutes, Ramil knocked in an unassisted goal from 15 yards out to complete the Livermore first-half scoring.

The other Livermore goals were scored by Tim Wade, with an assist from Tom Lennon, and Mark Bryant, from 12 yards out. Wade's shot was from in front of the goal crease.

Haven wins

Mark Davis fashioned a three-hit shutout and cracked a two-run triple as Hobby Haven of Livermore opened the District 5 Babe Ruth baseball Tournament of Champions with a 7-0 win over Cooper, McKenzie and Phillips of Pleasanton recently.

Davis fanned 13 Pleasanton batters while his teammates played errorless ball behind him.

Jack Haller and Bryon Boyle also had two RBI each for Livermore while Mike Morkowski and Craig Taylor also had singles.

Brent Hall doubled to pace the losers' offense.

The top 32 golfers advanced to today's double round of eliminations.

Straeter will play his first match of the day at 8 a.m. against Greg Geertson of Pebble Beach, who recently fell to Danville's Greg Allio in the Professional Golfers Association junior tourney at Harding Park in San Francisco. Geertson carded a 75 to join a group of eight tied for second at 75.

Richardson faces Fresno's Eric Costa, who shot a

77 yesterday at 8:23 a.m. Allio's brother Mike, the other local entrant, dropped to the third flight with an 82. He's matched with Eric Hinkelman of Fair Oaks in another 8:23 contest.

Sixteen-year old Keith Clearwater of Walnut Creek, who blitzed the field at the East Bay Area qualifying at Diablo Country Club a week ago, remained in contention with a 77.

Pre-tourney favorite Bobby Clampett of Carmel Valley, a recent qualifier for the United States Golf Association Junior Championship, took medalist honors with a 73, two shots better than the rest of the field.

Play continues in the prestigious tournament through Friday.

Sports in brief

Local lures big

McCutcheon, using eggs as a lure, landed a 24-inch white sucker in the Denver. The derby is conducted in conjunction with a Colorado Fish and Game Department study.

Pop Warner

The Dublin Knights Pop Warner football team is still in need of players for the upcoming seasons.

Boys 12-14 years of age, weighing between 105-140 pounds, are welcome to sign up. Practice starts Aug. 2 and the team will play a 10-game schedule, many under the lights at Dublin High School.

Interested players may call Wayne Barnes at 828-0231.

Dublin

Dave Glockner lashed out three hits, including two doubles, as Heritage Realty defeated West Distributing, 9-6, in Dublin Softball Association play last week.

Bill Vanderryl and Mike McGriff had three hits for the winners, while Dan Kleier and Russ Jones and Lori Wilbur had two each in addition to Steele.

For the losers, Janis Seagraves and Dianne Staedel each doubled while Dianne Gill had two hits. Joyce Sautler and Cristy Palmer singled.

Silver golf

Mitchell, who carries an 11 handicap, carded a low gross of 84 to win Castlewood's qualifying round while Harrington became the other half of the team with a low net of 68.

The better-ball-of-partners tournament will be Sept. 27.

Water Polo fun

Water polo, with the use of inner-tubes, is a sport chosen by residents in the Highland Oaks Development in "keeping fit and cool" during the summer. The adults, male and female, play every Tuesday and Thursday from 7 to 8 p.m. On Tuesdays from 11 a.m. to noon the younger teens play a game and on Thursdays same time, teens from 15 to 18 display their skills. Anyone residing in the Highland Oaks area is welcome to participate. "Just show up at the time designated for the category you would fall in," says a spokesman for the group.

Smorga's triumphs

Every Smorga Bob's player had at least one hit as the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District men's softball team roared from behind to beat Astro Rental, 9-5.

Lead-off batter Dave Russell doubled and tripled while Ray Ferreira and Chuck Canfield each singled and tripled. Al Kinkes and Ken Pughlin each singled twice while Bob Lewis, Jim Fuchs, Pat Fowler, Mike Vingo and Tom Banks had a hit each.

For the losers, Tom Imcer singled three times, Chris Worden twice and Bob Johansen singled and doubled. Wayne Rice, Tim Henshaw, Doug Pirrone, Mike Freitas and John Arguello had singles.

Truckin' rolled to an easy, 16-3, win over the Twilight Zone as three players had a trio of hits each.

Al Tassel had two doubles and a triple, Rich Rochin two singles and a double and Carl Cragholm three singles. Ron Sigg and Dave Olmstead each had two singles while Mike McCune tripled. Kei Sugota, D.D. Hill and Doug Thomas each singled once.

Steele singles

Debbie Steele's second single of the game drove in Judy Lee with the winning run in the top of the seventh inning as Amador Linen clipped C & C Beauty Supply, 4-3, in recent Livermore Area Recreation and Park District women's softball action.

US head rebuffs Wilkins

MONTREAL — The president of the U.S. Olympic Committee called America's discus gold medalist, Mac Wilkins, "a grandstander and a pop-off" Monday, hitting back at critics of the American Olympic effort.

"It's like hating your parents," Philip O. Krumm of Kenosha, Wis., told The Associated Press.

The USOC executive claimed most Americans were upset by Wilkins' antics on the field and at the victory ceremonies and at the comments he made at the post-competition press conference at the Olympic Stadium.

Wilkins, a tall, bearded free spirit from San Jose, joshed with his competitors and carried on a running flirtation with the crowd during his six throws, one of which went 221 feet, 5 inches for the gold medal.

When East Germany's Wolfgang Schmidt unleashed a toss that beat out Wilkins' teammate, John Powell, for the silver medal, Wilkins threw a bear hug around the German and lifted him high in the air. It appeared to be a slap at Powell, with whom Wilkins has had a long feud.

On the victory stand, Wilkins broke into a wide smile during the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Asked at the press conference why he had smiled, the big University of Oregon graduate gave a profane explanation which drew hearty laughs. The reply caused some consternation among interpreters.

Then Wilkins launched into another attack on the U.S. Olympic Committee, saying, "I am embarrassed to be associated with people like that."

Earlier he told reporters, "I hope East Germany wins all the medals here. It would shake our people up. I hate inefficiency."

Wilkins was asked if he felt he had won the gold medal for himself or for the United States.

"For myself," he said, "I worked for it. The United States can share in it if they wish but they had no part in winning it."

It was this comment that riled Krumm.

"Wilkins is the No. 1 grandstander," the USOC chief said. "He is a publicity hound of the first order, a 90-day wonder. Without Olympic funds and help, he wouldn't be here and have that medal."

"He is one of those who lean on us for money and then show no appreciation. But it's a minor group. We have a letter from the gymnastic team thanking us for what we've done."

Asked if disciplinary action may be taken against

Wilkins, Krumm replied: "I don't think so. We have learned to put up with jerks like that."

Wilkins' criticism, which he has promised to elaborate on later at another formal press conference, followed expressions of discontent by his close friend, shot putter Al Feuerbach, shot putter George Woods and javelin bronze medalist Kate Schmidt.

"The malcontents constitute a very small minority of our team," Krumm said. "Overall the spirit of the team is high, the morale good. Most American athletes feel it is a privilege and an honor to represent their country in these Games."

Unsung Yankees carry big load

NEW YORK — The New York Yankees are getting Gold Glove fielding at shortstop. The only question is who the glove belongs to.

As the Yankees threaten to run away in the American League East with solid hitting, flashy baserunning and strong pitching, the only platooning shortstops in the league have pretty much gone unnoticed.

Baltimore has Mark Belanger, Cleveland has Frank Duffy, Detroit has Tom Verzy, Boston has Rick Burleson, Milwaukee has Robin Yount. In the AL West are Fred Patek, Bert Campaneris, Toby Harrah, Roy Smalley, Bucky Dent and Dave Chalk. All are reasonably certain to see their names on the line-up card every day.

With the Yankees, it depends on the opposing pitcher.

If it's a right-hander, the nod goes to left-hander Jim Mason. With a southpaw on the mound, righty Fred Stanpey gets the call. But neither one—Stanley is hitting .222, Mason .171—is really in there for his bat.

"If we get 45 RBI between us it's just like any other shortstop who plays every day," says Stanley. "Unless you get somebody like Harrah, who drives in a lot of runs but also has a chance of making 50 errors."

Dark-haired Jim Mason, 25 years old, 6 feet 2 and 190 pounds, from Mobile, Ala., until recently the target of vicious booing, has committed only eight errors in 72 games. Fred Stanpey, 28 and blond, 5-10 and 168, from Farnhamville, Iowa, has booted only two chances in 54 games. Defensively, the roommates have solidified a position that caused endless worry and numerous trade talks last winter.

"They started rooming us together in spring training two years ago," says Stanley. "It could be a difficult situation, but both of us are mature enough to handle it."

"Everyone wants to play every day," says Mason, "but if you don't, you don't hold it against the other player. There's no animosity toward each other. We play when we're supposed to."

Mason, in fact, is Stanley's biggest rooster, and Stanley does the same for Mason. Manager Billy Martin likes both of them.

"They've both played great, just fantastic," he says. "We both want to win," says Mason. "Nobody wants to platoon. I don't think you can do your best job platooning, but we're winning and you can't buck success. Winning means more money for both of us."

Mason was one of the prime reasons the Yankees made a strong run at the flag in 1974. But last year his bat died and his glove went with it and Stanley played regularly most of the second half.

"All winter I thought maybe I'd get a chance to be No. 1," Stanley recalls. "Now I've stopped thinking about it. We're way out in

Women cagers win, 83-67

MONTREAL (AP) — Winning a medal was what it wanted from the start and the U.S. women's basketball team got what it wanted Monday with an 83-67 drubbing of Czechoslovakia.

The victory assured the Americans of no worse than a bronze medal.

And they expected to go home with a silver, counting on the gold-medal champion Russian team to defeat Japan Monday night.

"Twenty years from now, no one can take this away from us," said Billie Jean Moore, coach of the American women. "We are the first United States women's basketball team to win an Olympic medal." The victory was built on a 15-0 second-half spurt that broke open what had been a tight game. Sue Rojewicz sparked the rally with four of her 10 points and a fistful of steals and rebounds. Nancy Dunkle, Julie Simpson and Lusia Harris, America's high scorer with 17 points, all contributed to the string.

"It was like we were on a cloud," said Miss Dunkle, the team's co-captain, "and it was floating higher and higher and higher."

The American bench erupted every time the scoreboard blinked two more American points. By the time the Czechs scored again, the game was out of reach.

"It felt so good because it was such a team effort," said Mary Ann O'Conner.

In the first half, the Americans had seemed sluggish and, after 20 minutes, the score was 37-37.

"We had to put the ball inside more," said Miss Moore. "We wanted to isolate Harris and Dunkle on one. We have a quicker team. We knew we had not run enough in the first half. We wanted to put the pressure on." Miss O'Conner put it another way.

"We got hungry," she said. "Hungry for the ball."

The American medal victory followed a 112-77 devastating loss to the Soviet Union which clinched the gold for the Russians.

"The difference between us is ... oh, about 10 inches," said Miss Moore, obviously referring to the Soviets' 7-foot center, Luliya Semenova.

The United States also lost its opening game in the tournament to Japan. "We had to come back twice," said Miss Moore. "But we were determined not to walk away from here without a medal."

When the final seconds ticked off, the Americans staged an emotional victory celebration. They huddled in the center of the court, and after a moment, they shouted together: "All the way, U.S.A.!"

Cincy belts Giants

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pete Rose hit his third leadoff home run in a week and Fred Norman pitched a seven-hitter Monday night as the Cincinnati Reds beat the San Francisco Giants 9-3.

Rose lined the second pitch of the game from John Montefusco, 9-9, over the right field wall to trigger the Cincinnati scoring and George Foster and Dan Driessen paced the Reds' attack with four hits each.

Stark explains his Lab posture

LIVERMORE — To tell the employees "the great pride I have in the lab's achievements" and to report on legislation that may affect them, U. S. Congressman Fortney H. (Pete) Stark addressed more than 300 Lawrence Livermore Laboratory employees in the lab auditorium Friday. Stark spoke for about 20 minutes in what was billed as a "non-political" talk on energy issues. He stayed to answer questions for 40 minutes longer. The congressman is in the midst of a reelection campaign against Republican Jim Mills.

Stark defended his vote against the U.S. Energy Research and Development Agency (ERDA) authorization bill. LLL is operated for ERDA by the University of California. Though he said he had "great pride in the lab's achievements," he voted against the bill because it contained defense appropriations.

"Research, development, testing and production of atomic weapons do not belong in a bill on energy," Stark told the audience. "Nuclear weapons policy should not be mixed in a debate on the question of providing an energy program for the country."

He said that under the procedure of combining energy and weapons authorization, it is not possible for the Congress to reevaluate the weapons program and national weapons policy.

Stark said the United States has enough major retaliatory weapons. To test more weapons, he argued, constantly accelerates the world's destructive capabilities to new levels.

The congressman praised LLL's efforts in non-nuclear programs, especially in the energy and environmental fields. He singled out the magnetic and laser fusion, geothermal, coal gasification, in situ oil shale and solar research efforts for special mention.

"The lab could be most useful," he said, "in the non-nuclear area which is where we should be spending more money."

Stark explained in detail the impact his amendment to the ERDA Appropriations bill would have on the lab employees. The amendment, which was supported by all the Democratic California congressional representatives, prohibits the federal government from granting funds to LLL unless its employees are guaranteed the right of collective bargaining.

Stark's amendment requires that the contract which goes into effect on Oct. 1, 1977 include commonly accepted labor practices as outlined in Section 7 of the National Labor Relations Act "providing these activities and rights are not in violation of California State law."

Stark said it is not clear whether this will give LLL employees the right to strike. State employees are not permitted to strike, but Stark indicated it might take a court test to decide whether, as University of California employees, lab workers are covered under the no-strike law. The congressman said the most important thing about his amendment is that "it broadcasts the need to straighten out the labor procedures at the lab."

"I think it gives the lab management a strong sense of the mood of Congress, since every Democrat in the California delegation supported it," he said, noting those people are the same representatives to whom the University of California looks for much of its support.

He told the group that LLL "is caught in a unique box" since it operates under rules set by ERDA, the state, and the University of California.
